POLITICAL UNION.

Knowledge of the past, with regard to the effecting of important or radical legislation in the United States Congress, is anything but encouraging to the fond heart of Mr. McKinley's election as a result in bringing about Hawaiian annexation right off the reel. In this connection, let the BULLETIN express its opinion that the term used in our constitution—"closer political union"—is a happier one than "annexation" implying, as it does, somewhat of the idea of conquest of the country annexed by the country to which it is joined. Such an idea is obliterated in the phrase of "closer political union," from which may also be eliminated the element of abruptness in attaining the complete consummation desired. Union would signify that Hawaii became an integral part of the great Federation with dignity and self respect altogether unimpaired. Some approach to the advantages of being a State in the Union may be attained before the full measure of that exalted position can probably be realized. To raise the cry of "Annexation or nothing!" at this juncture would be supremely foolish. As has been already argued in this paper, it is extremely doubtful if the United States would annex these islands on the request, simply, of the present government—the term is used in the broader sense of system—and its very limited electorate. It is held, taking all the risks of prophecy, that the bulk, or at least a respectable majority, of all the elements eligible for the American franchise will be necessary to back a requisition from Hawaii for admission to the Union.

Closer political union can be promoted in no better way, probably, than by more intimate commercial relations. A complete reciprocal exchange of products and manufactures, free of duties, would give a mighty impetus to the cause of Hawaiian incorporation into the Union as a State. It would display before the eyes of Hawaiians the material advantages of having their country's welfare bound up irrevocably with that of the great Republic. Also, it would give the planting fraternity time to set their house in order for the abolition of contract labor. The objection may be raised to any proposal for widening the scope of the reciprocity treaty, that the opening of that subject at all night imperil even the existence of the treaty as it now stands. This is an objection that should not weigh for a moment. If there can be mustered in Congress a majority that would knock Hawaii down for presuming to propose an improvement of her present relations with the United States, then it would be well for the government and people of these islands to meet the shock and test the country's competency to exist independently first as last. In the meantime the campaign on this side of the water, on behalf of the cause of complete union, should take the form of systematic endeavor for reconciling all who remain unconvinced to the idea of Hawaii's manifest destiny.

An article from the Irrigation Age elsewhere reprinted advocates that convict labor should be employed in the United States for making and improving roads instead of manufacturing articles in competition with free labor. Hawaii is ahead in this matter.

GOOD FOOTBALL.

Town Team Defeats the Punahou in a Strong Contest.

In spite of the damp and threatening weather, the grand stand at Makiki ball grounds was well filled, many ladies being there, wearing either buff and blue or red and white colors. The carriage enclosure was crowded with vehicles, in which many people watched the contest on the gridiron in comfort, and quite a crowd of men and boys with tin horns and their melodious voices gathered on one side of the field to encourage their favorites. The game began at about 3:45. The Punahou team took the ball and started with a kick off. One of the Townies got the ball, but could not get far before he was tackled. During the first half the ball was kept in the Town team's territory most of the time. Several times the Townies lost ten yards by one man playing off-side. In the second half the Town team started the fun with a kick-off. The ball was quickly snatched by a student who carried it back a distance in the direction from whence it came. Other students then tried in turn for gains, but failed to advance five yards, so the ball went to the Townies again. One Towny then advanced 25 yards towards the Punahou's goal. A drizzling rain was then falling which made the turf slippery. This was an advantage for the Townies when it came to a push, they being the heavier team. Bucking through their opponents' center was now in order with the Town boys, and they gained steadily. The ball was about two yards from the Punahou goal when the students made a solid wall, through which the Townies failed to pass. On a fumble the students secured the ball and carried it a slight distance from the goal. Failing to advance the necessary five yards, the students had to surrender the ball to the opponents. After a short, sharp struggle, the Townies scored a touchdown, August Conrad having the honor of carrying the ball over the line. The Townies were unsuccessful in kicking for a goal. Score: Townies 4, Punahou 0. A kick-off was again made by the Punahous. After the ball was carried back and forth for a few minutes, the students lost ten yards by an off side play. After this the ball was kept in Punahou territory until the finish, at 5:15. No one was seriously hurt. Men on both sides had to lie down quite often on account of having their wind knocked out, but were in the scrimmage again in a few seconds. The students showed great skill and courage throughout, and the Townies put up a hard, honest game. The band was stationed in the grand stand, and played at intervals during the contest.

THE STRANGER WINS.

Boat Race Between Two Myrtle Club Crews.

An exciting boat race took place yesterday forenoon between the Alice M. and Stranger of the Myrtle Boat Club. The start was made off the Marine Railway, the course being round the Spar buoy and back. It was a close contest to near the Spar, with the Stranger in the lead, after turning which the Stranger crew rowed easily towards the finish, the Alice M. crew digging in a quarter of a mile astern.

Arriving at the boat house, the defeated crew made all sorts of excuses, but the truth was they "weren't in it." The fact that the winning boat is heavier than the other only added more glory for the crew. The crews were as follows:

Stranger—O. Sorenson (stroke), W. Lyle, Geo. Clarke, L. Scott, Geo. Martin, J. Logan, and W. Love (coxswain).

Alice M.—H. Giles (stroke), Bert Petrie, W. Thrum, Tom King, Ed. Paris, Sam Lyle, and Charles Crane (coxswain).

Harry Wilder started the race with a rifle shot, announcing the finish in the same way. Frank McIntyre acted as judge.

TELESCOPE COFFEE POTS, TEA STRAINERS AND OTHER USEFUL THINGS.

THE TELESCOPE COFFEE POT is constructed with an inner chamber extending one-sixteenth of an inch from the bottom of the Pot, thus preventing any possible escape of the steam and aroma.

DIRECTIONS

The coffee used should be ground very fine and placed in the inner chamber. Pour boiling water over the coffee, cover and allow to remain on the stove six or seven minutes. When the coffee is made, raise the inner chamber and fasten with the set screw to strain. The clear amber coffee remains in the Coffee Pot ready to serve. The inner chamber may be lifted out if desired.

POINTS OF EXCELLENCE

1. ECONOMY—It is a coffee saver. In a short time it pays for itself.
2. By using finely ground coffee you are enabled to obtain every particle of strength contained in the coffee.
3. The cloth being stretched tightly across the bottom of the inner chamber to strain the coffee, making a large flat surface, the coffee is strained very readily.
4. The cloth used on the inner chamber being adjustable, it is easy to remove.
5. There is no place in the inner chamber, Coffee Pot or strainer to collect the sediment that may make the coffee muddy.
6. There is no reason why you should not make coffee exactly alike 365 mornings in the year, without the slightest variation.
7. The coffee will keep hot longer, because the Coffee Pot consists of two thicknesses instead of one.
8. You can make one cup of coffee as well and as satisfactorily as a pot full.
9. The inner chamber may be removed and washed, and the clear strained coffee may be saved for lunch.
10. By not subjecting the Coffee Pot to extreme heat it should last a lifetime.

We have these new coffee pots in one, two, three and four quart sizes and sell them at the San Francisco retail price. We have also a fine line of the old fashioned earthenware tea-pots and something new in the shape of improved tea strainers, which are both ornamental and cheap.

We have a full line of kitchen ware in tin and agate.

W.W. DIMOND'S

Santa Claus is extremely fond of receiving letters from the little ones. He generally offers a valuable prize of some kind to well behaved children and this year he has notified Wall, Nichols Co., who are to act as his agents here, to offer in his name a beautiful French doll to the Honolulu girl or boy who writes him the most original letter. Any little one under ten years of age may compete for the doll which is sure to be highly prized by the lucky recipient. Now, girls, this is your opportunity. Brush the cobwebs and dust of puzzling questions out of your minds and write the old gentleman a nice letter; something different from anything you have ever written before. You may ask your papas and mamas how to spell the words but the thoughts and good wishes should be all your own.

On honor, now!

Letters may be mailed in the letter box at Wall, Nichols Co's store between 9 o'clock next Saturday morning, Nov. 28th, and 12 o'clock noon of December 24th, the day before Christmas.

The doll will be on exhibition in one of their large show windows during the above period. The judges of the merits of the letters received will be decided upon by representatives of the press of Honolulu.
